Private James Herndon Instantly Kills J. O. Stapp, Ex-Private, Who NEW YORK Attacked Him.

BOARD OF INQUIRY WILL INVESTIGATE and Will Be Handled by Board of Officers.

James O. Stapp, 22, ex-soldier, was late Wednesday night by Private James Herndon, Company I. Twentysecond infantry. The shooting accurred in the guardhouse at Fort McPherson, and is the culmination of two years' bad feeling between the men, according to fort officers.

Private Herndon was placed un der arrest pending an investigation by a board of inquiry, composed of three officers a, the fort, which will meet this morning at 10 o'clock. The shooting having occurred on a government reservation, army officers will handle the case, and the outcome will depend upon the findings of the board.

In the event the investigation discloses that the shooting was justifiable. Herndon will be released from confinement in the fort prison. If the board decides that he should be tried the young slayer will be summone either before a general court-martial or turned over to federal district court for trial. Bad Feeling Existed.

On Tuesday night Stapp is said to have attacked Herndon while the latter was off the reservation, and earlier in the day had entered the reservation in a search for Herndon, the latter avoiding him officers asserted.

Wednesday night he walked through open gate to the reservation, entered the guard house where Herndon was on duty, and advanced upon the latter, at the same time, it is reported saying he was going to "get him." Several soldiers on duty at the guard house said Stapp had his hand in his hip pocket and advanced towards where Herndon was seated. The latter drew a 45-calibre automatic revolver and fired three times, one bullet striking Stamp in the left arm. let striking Stapp in the left arm, and the other entering the breast, in the region of the heart. A distinguished English financier, visiting this country some years ago, was surprised at the investment habits of Americans.

"Why," he exclaimed, "even your rich men seem to keep so many of their securities pledged for loans at the bank! They own comparatively little outright and are always talking about selling at a profit."

But the habit of outright investing has grown since the Englishman was here. People are buying first mortgage real estate bonds and putting them away in surprising amounts. Few things are easier to make than good mayonnaise.

Wesson Oil and a fresh egg-beaten together and seasoned to taste-and you have a mayonnaise you'll be proud of!

Quickest results are obtained if the oil and egg are not too cold. The ordinary temperature of your kitchen is just right.

Break an egg in a bowl-

Add about a tablespoonful of Wesson Oil.

Beat vigorously with an egg beater or a fork-until the oil and egg are thoroughly mixed. How long will that take? Perhaps while you count fiftynot as fast as you can count but as fast as you can beat.

Add another tablespoonful of oil and beat again -vigorously. Two tablespoonfuls and beat again. Two or three more and beat again.

Your mayonnaise will begin to thicken a little.

Then add Wesson Oil four or five tablespoonfuls at a time, beating well after each addition—until your mayonnaise is as thick and stiff as you want it. The more oil you beat into it the thicker your mayonnaise will be-about two cupfuls is the usual amount. [Never add more than a quarter cupful of oil at any one time].

After your mayonnaise is made, add seasoning. Mix a half teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful each of sugar and mustard, a generous pinch each of paprika and red pepper-add a tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and stir until the salt and sugar are dissolved—then pour into the mayonnaise and beat well.

With Wesson Oil Mayonnaise as a base you can make many delicious fancy salad dressings in a very few minutes—for instance—

Stir in the juice of a quarter lemon.

To Help the Truck-Growers

We are placing on sale THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY a number of fresh vegetables raised around over Georgia—just the finest, freshest and tenderest of home-grown edibles.

The recent fine rains have produced a splendid crop on some of these items, and truck-growers—the fellows who are digging from morning till night that you might have something fresh for your table —are bringing them in to us at a lively rate, and asking us to help them dispose of them.

We are putting a number of these vegetables on sale for the next three days at prices just about half what they have been selling forin fact, about half they are really worth—and at prices that yield only an insignificant margin of profit to us. But we do not want to see any of these fine fresh vegetables go to waste, nor see the truckgrowers lose any of their crop.

So Here's the Way We Are Going TO SELL THEM:

OCLOCK [the let-down hour]

... some newly discovered medical facts of interest to office, store and factory executives

TAVE you ever noticed the listless, "elbow on desk" attitude of even the best men in a business organization along toward 3?

It isn't laziness, it's fatigue - an insidious, steadily mounting accumulation of waste poisons in the blood stream—so authorities now find. Strenuous mental or physical exertion, plus indoor air, plus heat -these cause it.

This dullness—this weariness of spirit-causes office and store errors, costly mistakes—and, among factory workers, lack of alertness, danger of accident.

> "Aerated" water-the fatigue tonic

Today, in the offices and plants of the world's greatest business organizations - such firms as the Standard Oil Co., Western Electric Co., Radio Corporation of America, American Express Co., J. P. Morgan & Co. —"3 o'clock" fatigue no longer hinders efficiency. A clever new invention, the XXth Century Water Cooler, takes the pale, insipid flatness out of office, store and factory drinking water..."aerates" it...makes it alive...sparkling... zestful.

4 or 5 cups of this "aerated" water, taken at short intervals during this hour, between 3 and 4, stimulate the body and aid it to quickly clear and flush out of its system the accumulated poisons of fatigue. Mental keenness and physical alertness return. The sense of dullness, of weariness, is noticeably relieved, even by the very first sip of this snow-cool "aerated" drink.

Send for the facts

An authoritative book "New Facts On How To Drink Water For Health," and a sample of a leaflet "Aerated Water" (prepared for distribution to employees of firms using XXth Century Coolers) will be sent without charge to office, store and factory executives. Send for both. Not only do they show how this clever new invention aids in overcoming fatigue—but they include new facts on how to avoid constipation, to control weight, to overcome the after-effects of smoking, to stop colds and headaches—in fact, many methods of maintaining health and efficiency at an indoor occupation, which are of vital interest to you and your employees (particularly consider-ing the fact that Herbert Hoover's Committee on Industrial Waste estimates every one of this country's some 40,000,000 workers lose an average of 8 days a year from sickness—chiefly of a minor, remedial nature). Send for facts.

eterans of Confederacy Preparing To Surrender To Their Final Foe-Time

al Sessions for Departposed Wednesday.

Dallas, Texas, May 20 .- (By the ciated Press.)-Veterans of the Confederacy prepared today to surrender to their final foe-tie. A proposal to discontinue the annual re-unions because of the advanced age United Confederate Veterans is exof the survivors and to hold depart- pected at the 35th annual reunion unions because of the advanced age of the survivors and to hold departmental reunions instead was made as the thirty-fifth reunion opening here today. The plan will be considered in detail tomorrow.

A resolution offered by Colonel J. B. Lewis, of Anderson, S. C., and General W. H. Coly, of Greenville. C. c. indicated that the veterans themselves recognized that the ineviable dissolution is at hand, and that they cannot long continue the general gatherings that have brought them together for the last 35 years to recount the battles which they cought for the lost cause.

New Plan Proposed.

The plan is to have reunions in three departments, each department, association. Each of the 17 divisions of the organization would be represented at the annual convention by one delegate. The inability of the veterans longer to stand the strain of long travel, as well as the expanse of the annual reunions, are among the reasons given for the proposal to discontinue the general catherings.

"The time is drawing near, if not already at hand, when we should put our house in order to meet the changes that are necessary at this time," reads the resolution.

"Our numbers are being rapidy diminished, by the passing away of our comrades. Each year adds to thin infimities of our members who are left with us. The expenses of transportation are burdensome, and the distances to be traveled in order to getten our annual reunions are togreat, and the strain of the long travel as well proposition of representation upon the matter Thursday.

Committee Provided.

The resolution provides that a committee of one from each of the 17 divisions be appointed to meet in their respective department headquarters to consider this plan and report at the next annual reunion. A constitutional amendment would be necessary to make the plan effective.

The three departments in which the reunions would be confined are:

The northern Virginia department, composed of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland; Tennesse department, composed of Louisiana, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Kentucky; trans-Mississippi department, composed of Texas, Oklanoma, Missouri, Arkansas and the Pacific coast.

"Unless this is adopted. I think we can say the reunion will not again be held west of the Mississippi," he said.

U. S. Pensions Proposed.

Another resolution presented asks that the federal government pay the pensions of the Confederate veterans, relieving the southern states of this burden, and also bury the Confederate dead. This resolution was offered by T. C. Arkansas.

Mr. Humphrey declared that many of the Confederate veterans have sons sleeping in federal cemeteries, who died for the United Country. He said his own son is in a soldier's grave in a federal cemetery.

This resolution reaffirms "our loyalty and devotion to the government of the United States, as demonstrated by ourselves and sons in every war of the United States since the Civil war."

A third resolution asks that $68.000.000 said to have been collected in taxes from southern states by the national government immediately following the war be used to pay Con-

These resolutions are under consideration by the resolutions committee composed of W. A. Rawls, John J. Hunt, R. F. Bullington and J. B. Lewis. On the credentials committee are W. A. Hart, Louisiana; S. W. Paulett, Virginia; W. H. Colv. of South Carolina, and John M. Follin, the District of Columbia.

Keeping Order Difficult,
The have time has wrought among the old soldiers was apparent in their efforts to conduct an orderly meeting in a vast hall packed with thousands of visitors. General James A. Thomas, communder-in-chief, presiding, struggled throughout the day to keep order.

Colonel William R. Gibson, who succeeds General S. Gray Zalinski as chief of the quartermaster corps of the fourth corps area, in the Red Rock building, will arrive in Atlanta next week, it was announced Wednesday. Colonel Gibson graduated from West Point Military academy in 1877. He served first as an officer in the cavalry and was assigned, later, to duty with the quartermaster sivision of the regular army. For the past year he has been a student in the army war college, Washington, D. C. He will be accompanied to Atlanta by his wife.

Denounced by Tennesseean

Nashville, Tenn., May 20.—(By the Associated Press.) — Two hundred members of patriotic societies of Tennessee met in the assembly room of the hotel which bears the name of President Andrew Jackson's home. "Hermitage," and resolutions were adopted denouncing Meade Minniegrade. New York author, whose article in The Saturday Evening Post. "An Informal Biography." of Rachel Jackson, aroused a storm of protest in Tennesse, where the president here statesman lived and died.

The resolutions were referred to a committee with authority to make "such verbal changes as in their judgment might be necessary and twing sign and deliver to the press."

Wide Range of Criticism.

The public criticisms ranged all the way from the most excoriating terms to the suggestion of an invitation to the author to visit the Hermitage and Jackson's tomb and observe for himself the gentlemanly personality of Jackson in his home life and the "lovable character" of his wife, Rachel.

The notable essemblage of criticanay able character" of his wife, Rachel.

The notable assemblage of citizenry decided to accept an offer from The Saturday Evening Post wired to Major Stahlman to publish a story from John Trotwood Moore, state librarian and archivist, giving his views of President and Mrs. Jackson.

The Post informed the Tennessee historians that Minnigerode had been requested to furnish the authorities for his story, asserting that it war not assumed that the authorwould "invent them."

A leading member of the resolutions committee declines to comment, when informed that Minnigerode had notified The Nashville Tennesseean

Judge B. Bell, all of Nashville.

Representatives of all leading patriotic and historic organizations in the state joined in the discussion of the Minnigerode account of the character of President Jackson and the qualifications and home life of his wife, Rachel Doncison.

The indignant body of men and women spoke with extreme dignity, in excoriating the author and there was a variance of opinion expressed regarding what terms should be apparently applied to the author and to the editor of The Post, and also just how much blame should be attached to the magazine and to the author.

D. A. Bradley president of the Glennville and Collins railroad, short-line road that is in competition with the bus line, had requested issuance of the rule nisi and Captain Roper said that the bus men had "to thank Mr. Bradley for instituting the move." Mr. Bradley stated that after he and several associates had paid $35,000 for the railroad and had put their earnings into repair work, revenues were being cut into by the bus lines that carried passengers, express packages and light freight, leaving the heavy and unprofitable hauling to the railroad. He asked that bus lines be required to furnish the same service as the railroad in heavy hauling.

After Mr. Burns had stated that the short-line roads pay higher taxes than the bus lines, Captain Roper declared that he is paying $540 a years to the state on each of his busses, not including license fee and gasoline tax, and that his rate of taxation is much higher on the investment than the railroad's.

Another martyr has gone to join the ranks of that "glorious army" at whose head stands St. Stephen, the first to pay with his life for his belief in the teachings of Christ. Tikon, patriarch of the Russian church, a man of character and strength is dead. No doubt a victim of the merciless treatment meted out to him by the Bolshevik authorities. Never once did he waver in his convictions. Not even when almost reduced to a skeleton in the dungeons of Moscow. The Bolsheviks have told the world of late in their literature of the sacrifices and devotion of their own communist adherents. They pride themselves on the "vangnard of the proletariat." But the glamor of such energy and despise of death wanes when civilization hears of the fate of Tikon and his priests. They also had an ideal. They also bourned with passion and they also sought to make humanity better. Their method moreover was a tried one. Civilization is a tribute to Christian teaching in the last analysis. The shambles of Russia are the bolshevik criterion. Long

He could have told Signor Mussolini that the voice of freedom may be stifled a while, but that it will ring again from the piazzas of Rome and Milan, despite clubs and murderers' weapons and bottles of castor oil. Beneath the surface in Italy there slumbers a tremendous force. It's the force of Italian idealism and love of freedom. Some day it will break its fetters.

Mijnheer Haringa is a Dutchman and he is proud of the fact. Traveling around the world he writes to a paper at home that wherever he goes he finds at least one countryman. Recently he chartered a vessel from Archangel and set out for Nova Zem-Archangel and set out for Nova Zembla in the arctic regions. Now Nova Zembla was the scene of a daring attempt of the Dutch to find a passage by the north of Russia to India. The effort was made in the seventeenth century so that the spice-laden rgo-sies would escape the roving Spanish buccaneers. The effort failed and the buccaneers. The effort failed and the story of the winter on that barren ice-bound island is one of the great epics in the history of pioneering. So Mijnheer Haringa, curious fellow that he is, wanted to see that island and probably discover some trace of the hardy explorers. He was rewarded. He found an iron cask and in the cask some documents, 'retic' warded. He found an iron cask and in the cask some documents. Sam Small Writes Of Silverman's Death And Confederate Reunion

As I read the roll of the dead of the past year in our own Georgia Confederate home, who are being memorialized today, my eyes were wet, for I realized more vividly than ever how rapidly the old gray line is shortening and that in a few years more will have vanished from mortal eyes. May God bless the brave old boys who do get to Dallas! His grace for at the college.

President DuBose has been at the the happy day.

I imagine that at 74 I am one of the very youngest of the veterans. The only comrade of our company whom I know to be living is ex-Senator Charlie Thomas, of Colorado, now practicing law here at the capital. We were in the "Lightfoot Guards," of Macon, enrolled in January, 1865, in Findley's Fifth Georgia reserves (or "preserves," as the regulars dubbed us). Harry Crisp, the actor and uncle of Congressman Charlie Crisp, was our captain. But all are gone over, I believe except (Flores and me believe, except Thomas and me.

Writing of the Confederates, let me mention a curious find that I made in my researches in the Congressional library the other day.

John Mitchel, the Irish patriot, so long an exile here in America, mostly in Knoxville, Tenn., where he was employed by my father on his daily newspaper, was again in Ireland in 1875. He made a speech at Cork, which the "Examiner" paper reported

"The London Times, indeed, has discovered a third disgraceful crime of which I have been guilty, namely, that I was a southern Confederate during the war in America. As to this last charge, I own the soft impeachment; was a Confederate and so were al the best men I met in America. (I hear!) My three sons served in Confederate army, and two of them fell in battle. I am not such a craven recreant as to affect to be ashamed of that cause!" Three cheers and a tiger for brave

Theodore E. Burton, the principal the American amendments to the various proposals for effecting the con-ference's purposes adopted without debate. These amendments were designed to relieve the United States from the necessity of becoming obli-gated to the league of nations through the operation of the conventions to be drawn by the conference. Among them was the amendment upon which a sharp fight had been expected—the elimination of the league from control over the statistics of arms production, imports and exports.

Burton Outlines Views. Burton outlined his views of the conference's purposes in a speech op-posing a suggestion whereby the con-vention regulating the traffic in arms and munitions and the convention con-effective. It was unnecessary to make one convention depend upon the other, Burton said, because publicity was the essence of the conference's tasks, and publicity was necessary for arms manufactured for purposes of peace as well as war. He urged faith in the moral force of the world and warned the conference against hypno tism by the spectre of war.

The British delegate immediately rose to support Burton's remarks. its effort to banish from the world the picturesque, sinister smuggler of arms, and to control government which permit arms to be exported into improper hands.

It is hoped to arrest smuggling by these means and to prevent any country, large or small, from secretly acquiring a hoard of weapons from foreign sources. By means of limitation of licenses it is intended to prevent the export of arms into countries where they are likely to become a menace to order, as for instance into a country wager there is cona menace to order, as for instance into a country where there is considerable internal disturbance such as now exists in Bulgaria. Also there will be special areas delimited within which traffic in arms or munitions will be prohibted.

Now the commttees are wading through the details of the problems of publicity and methods and the definition of arms and munitions. Finally the full conference will draft an agreement embodying the two conventions and this will be submitted to the vacious governments for sig-

SIMPLER SHADES IN HOUSE PAINTS SEEN BY HORGAN

Simpler shades in house paints, in eccordance wth the Hoover conservation program, were predicted Wednesday by George V. Horgan, of New York, secretary of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association, the southern zone of which held a convention Monday and Tuesday at the Biltmore hotel.

More tasteful effects will be produced in the simplification of colors, he said, though the number of colors will not be lessened. Simpler shades will mean big benefits to the home makers, he said.

"This does not mean necessarily that there will be fewer colors on the market," Mr. Horgan explained. t means that the discordant jum-of shades will be reduced, so as to produce a more tasteful effect,

"In parts of the country where flamboyant colors can be made to harmonize with the landscape—as in California—the reduction will not affect the number of colors in a community. It will result in a more harmonious effect."

This simplification will mean bene fits for the home maker who has had to pay necessarily large prices for tones of color whose small de-mand make manufacture expensive;

MARIST SPEAKERS

TO STAGE CONTEST

The hallway sounds the keynote of the home's character. Here, first judgments are formed as to one's taste and hospitality. Hence correct appointments are important.

To own such things does not require wealth, but, rather, clear judgment and a sense of proportion. Almost any income can realize for anyone heart-satisfying home beauty, as the result of merely reasonable outlay.

Liberal investment in high-grade furniture and home furnishings is certain to justify such a use for money. The value is so visible and so enduring; and the influence upon the mind of every person in the family is so very great!

Just as there can not be a too beautiful home so good furniture can never be deemed an extravagance. The abiding mental peace it brings alone warrants its cost; and that is not exorbitant nowadays.

> The chief aim of these furniture dealers is to supply you with what shall satisfy your love of beauty; with due consideration for the limitations of your budget.

RHINELANDER TRIAL IS SET FOR NOV. 9

White Plains, N. Y., May 20.—
Trial of the marriage annulment suit brought by Leonard Kip Rhinelander against Mrs. Alice Iseatrice Jones Rhinelander, of New Rochelle, has been set for November 9.

Attorneys for young Rhinelander, who charges that his wife did not tell him she was of negro blood, recently asked for a preference, requesting that the case be set for trial early in June on the ground that Rhinelander's social position made it imperative that the case be settled at the earliest possible date. Justice Seeger decided against the young millionaire.

10 STATES TO ATTEND U. S. FISH CONFERENCE

Washington, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Ten of the states bordering on the Atlantic and gulf coasts have accepted the invitation of Secretary Hoover to be represented at a special conference here Friday on fish conservation.

The conference will endeavor to formulate policies for dealing in a national fashion with the task of conserving food, game and shell fish, supplies of which. Secretary Hoover's call said, steadily are diminishing under the increased takings of recent years.

A Fable of Fabulous Bargains An Editorial by James Wallen

It was the crow who boasted to the turkey that his name never ap-implies a certain lack of quality. Some folk find queer virtues to compliment themselves about. For instance, the merchant who prates largely and expensively about

The word "bargain" has a questionable past, an unpleasant present but a certain future. It will go into the dustbin of forgotten things. "To bargain" meant to barter and to gamble, in older and franker days when every store was a trading post minus but brown Indians and red beads.

Today the bargain has no respectable standing. It is not recognized in the courts of merit and value.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose business has nothing to do with fabulous bargains. Under the great golden dome of modern merchandising this store exists for service

IS SHORT HAIR HEALTHY?

There's a good deal of agitation at the present moment as to whether or not short hair is healthy. Considering the number of bobbed heads about the agitation seems a little bit late. The criticisms i have heard run all the way from the theory of a very old-fashioned lady that constantly cutting the hair 'bled it," to the statement of a hair tonic manufacturer that "keeping the hair short has undoubtedly led to baldness in men," followed by an even more emphatic statement that all would be well if a bottle or so of his hair tonic were used.

SUMMER WEATHER SEEN FOR ATLANTA DURING THIS WEEK

Fair weather for the next several days is the agreeable forecast by C. F. von Herrmann, U. S. weather man at Atlanta.

Today's weather will be fair and warm, with a maximum temperature of 82 or 83 degrees, supplanting cool weather of the past few days. The movement of a low pressure area eastward over the northern portion of the country is held responsible for the good news of weather man.

Temperature was 56 degrees at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, rising to 60 by 7 o'clock and 73 at noon, with the possibility of a rise of three or four more degrees during the afternoon. Fair weather is forecast for this section generally, following showers over south Georgia and Florida during the past 24 hours.

Paris, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Late reports from Morocco say that the forces of Abd-el-Krim, the rebel leader, on the Oucrgha river, which were estimated at 20,000 men, when the first drive began, have been largely increased. He is believed to be making ready for a hard push toward Oucran.

The rebel leader's attemut to transform this movement into a holy war is believed to have failed, because he is at the head of a mass of Berber tribesmen who have no sympathies with the Mussulmans.

The communist forces in France, however, are asserted to have actively enlisted in Abd-el-Krim's cause and to be endeavoring to develop sentiment hostile to further action in the Riff region by the French forces. Their action is said to be supported by the extreme socialists who are alleged in political circles here to have chosen this pretext to attack the Painleve cabinet. Skillfully handled by the communists and extreme socialists this political offensive threatens to break the government coalition in the chamber of deputies. Krim is believed to be strengthening his forces for a drive just about the time the chamber of deputies convenes next Monday so as to increase the embarrassment of the government.

The government's policy with respect to Morocco, however, is certain to attract sufficient votes from the right parties to offset the secession of the socialists, but the socialists also disapprove of M. Caillaux's financial proposals, and upon this question the government will not find support from the right parties.

3.142 Prisoners At Federal Pen Swammen www. Sets Record Mark

The number of immates at the Atlanta Federal penitentiary Wednesday soared to a new record mark of 3,142, when two new carloads of prisoners arrived from Toledo, Ohio, and Little Rock, Ark... and five others came from South Carolina. Crowded conditions continue to furnish a problem to the bousing of the new lem as to the housing of the new men and it is only a matter of time until it will be impossible to care for other prisoners, according to prison officials.

Men now are housed in rooms originally intended for baths and many basement rooms are now used as sleeping quarters for prisoners. The institution, was intended to house 1,400 men but has been forced to care for more than twice that number for the past several months. It is expected that congress will take steps to remedy the situation at its coming session.

G. O. P. CONGRESS NEEDED TO SAVE COOLIDGE POLICIES

Philadelphia, May 20.—A republican congress must be elected next year to make the policies of President Coolidge effective, Senator William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the republican national committee, declared in a speech to party workers at the Union League club Wednesday night.

"To make 1924 effective, we-must win in 1926. I have no delusion that the victory will drop into our hands. We must fight for it."

that of David D. Jones negro, of Newcastle street, on Broad street at administration domination of other quasi-judicial and administrative hoards—particularly the tariff commission and the shipping board—will be the subject of attack by democrats and insurgent republicans when congress resumes.

They attach such importance to this question that it may gain considerable great political prominence when the issues are developed for the congressional campaign next spring.

Several incidents have occurred respect of William E. Humphrey, of the federal trade commission before the United States chamber of commerce Wednesday. Humphrey attacked the motives of his colleagues on the commission who are opposing the new anti-publicity policy regarding unfair and illegal practices which are abandoned by agreement with the commission, but without trial. This policy was adopted soon after Humphrey was appointed and the conservative republicans obtained a majority.

"This opposition." Commissioner Humphrey said. "comes from the vocal and beatific frings, the pink edges that border both of the two old parties. It cames from that element whose political platform is expediency; whose possitical creed is that whatever is is wrong; from that class that looks upon the world with a jaundiced eye; that believes success and dishonesty in American business are synonymous.

"The exact truth is that the opposition to the changes in procedure comes from those who believe that these changes will prevent them from using the commission for personal and pollitical purposes. I make this statement, measuring my words, based upon the facts that I have learned since

Marshall showed his gratitude for this promise, and the two men shook hands warmly. Then Marshall handed Terence the bandanna, and he covered his eyes with it and tied it behind his head. When his fingers had completed the knot, he dropped his hand and it came into contact with Mary's, whose pony was close beside him. He closed his hold on her fingers, and leaning in his saddle, smiled, and whispered in her ear—which he located by the soft wisps of her hair which gently brushed his cheek—

"But, Mary—dear—I'll be prayin' the Saints to be sepdin' me back soon—to you."

Mary threw her head back, looked at the sky whence her lover had come, and smiled radiantly. Then she quickly dropped his hand, after giving it a pressure with her own that meant more to him, than any words she might have said in reply, and wheeled her horse around.

"All right—Ramon—Miquel." Marshall called.

The two servants came up, and Ramon took the bridle rein of the lanket, at the very moment the thought had come into his mind, the buckboard veering on the bruckboard veering on the brunkt he thought had come into his mind, the buckboard veering on the brunkt he thought had come into his mind, the buckboard veering on the brunkt he thought had come into his mind, the buckboard veering on the bruckboard veering on the brunkt he pers wheel caught the edge of the open side of the road. GOOD HITTING HERE.

Charlotte N. C.; May 20.—Before the largest crowd of the local season, over 4,000 persons turning out to see the deciding game of the series played, the Macon Peaches won a slugfest from the Charlotte Hornets, 12 to 11. The Peaches drove both Brown and Wilson from the hillock in the early innings, but the Hornets returned the compliment by chasing Hernandez in the fourth and Stamey in the ninth after a rally had thretened to tie the score, a rally had thretened to tie the score.

BROWER HURLS SHUT-OUT

TWIN BILL

St. Petersburg, Fal., May 20.— Edward Brower, right-hand pitcher, won two shut-out games here today in a double-header be tween the St. Petersburg and Sanford clubs, of the Florida State league. He gave only three hits in the first, a regulation nineinning game, but was touched for five safeties in the second, which the Saints won, 2 to 0, in seven innings. He struck out 11 me in the two games.

NURMISAYS PAPERS ARE NO GOOD

New York, May 20.—Newspapers and photographers are no good—this from Paavo Nurmi, greatest of all runners, whose pictures and deeds have filled many columns of the nation's periodicals.

The Finn was approached today in his room at a field where he is training for his mile race at Cambridge Friday and his final appearance in America. at the Yankee stadium in New York, on Tucsday.

Nurmi's face was a picture of dis-gust as he turned to respond to a re-porter's query for an opinion of the American press: "Newspapers? No goot! No goot! Photographers—No goot! No goot" blurted the Finn.

The attendant of the locker room asked Nurmi one day about published reports that he would return to Amer-

"No come back! No come back!" had been Nurmi's reply he said, add-ing the opinion that he believed Paa-vo was "disgusted."

According to the attendant the Olympic champion fears chiefly his farewell test here with Alan Helffrich, the Penn State athlete,

Runs Consecutive Total To 34 Games; Ken Williams Knocks Eighth Home Run

St. Louis, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)-After hitting in 34 consecutive games this season, George Sisler, St. Louis Brown playing manager, falled to make a safety in today's contest with the Athletics. It was the first time this year Sisler had been held hitless. He established the modern major league record of 41 consecutive hitting games in 1922.

Sisler was credited today with two walks and three times at bat, in the latter of which he grounded out, struck out and flied out. He made the last out of the game.

Only twice has Sisler's 1922 mark been bettered. W. H. Keeler, of Baltimore, hit in 44 consecutive games in 1897 and W. Dahlen, of Chicago, in 42 in 1894.

1897 and W. Dahlen, of Chicago, in 42 in 1894.

Ken Williams. St. Louis Brown left fielder, poled his eighth home run of the season off Harris with the bases filled in the fifth inning of tiday's game, with the leading Athletics. George Sisler just previously bad walked, forcing in a run.

Locals Take Twin Bill From Barons With Fast Fielding and Heavy Bats RUTH CONNECTS

BY GEORGE CONGDON,

Somehow, they just wouldn't be stopped yesterday, so today the Crackers jump into their series with the Nashville Volunteers at Spiller field more or less giddy with the nectar of taking a double-header, intact and quite valuable, Wednesday from Birmingham.

The scores were 6 to 4 in the first game and 9 to 4 in the second swat session. In spite of their pair of wins, the Crackers are still in second place by a matter of three points in the percentage column. They have their chance today to take a hop to the top of the heap again. Jack Slappey, long and left-handed, has been elected sole promoter of the opportunity.

The Barons started their scoring in the second game in the first inning, with the material assistance of a wild peg to first by Yeargin. Griffin, first the percentage column. They have their chance today to take a hop to the top of the heap again. Jack Slappey, long and left-handed, has been elected sole promoter of the opportunity.

Contrary to expectations and even the hopes of the most rabid of Atlanta fans, only three Atlanta pitchers worked in the two games. Looks like Niehoff has taught his throwers considerable geography, especially with regard to the location of the home plate, to quote a choice phrase President Dan Michalove used in connection with activities in the Yankee camp from which he has just returned.

Jim Bagby, who became somewhat

The first game had all the earmarks of real baseball. So did the second game—for four innings. Then, in the fifth, everything happened that shouldn't happen when it's your team whouldn't happen when it's your team the things happening damage. Dixie Walker had been going well as Birmingham pitching material. In the fifth he was soaked for too many base hits, and Lungren went in. He didn't allow many hits. He was too busy giving bases on balls, hitting batsmen, etc.

Yeargin started the second game for the Crackers and was going right along good, we thought, but Niehoff yanked him in the fourth, when the Crackers were trailing, and sent Paul Fittery in to southpaw the Birmingham club. Paul did this effectively for the one inning he worked. Verrfor the one inning he worked. Year-gin's only trouble was a bit of wild-ness and an inclination toward throw-ing to first, when a runner was on, even more frequently than he pitched

One big inning in each game turned the trick for the Crackers. It was the third in the first game, and when the stampede started on the paths, Birmingham had two runs to the good. Stewart scored in the first when he singled through the box and was forwarded all the way home by Jeanes' triple. In the second Knox singled, went to second on an infield out, took third on Didier's single and score on a single by Griffin.

Another youngster who looked like a million dollars was Uncle Bert himself, who, much as Ty Cobb is showing his age by hitting around .400, exhibited a pitiful degree of decrepity by stealing a couple of bases, one of them the scoring rubber. As for hitting—in the first game, the only one to get better than one hit was Bagby, with two.

Why we call them

Jim Bagby, who became somewhat of a hero last Saturday with a three-hit shutout, worked all the way in the first game vesterday. He gave up 11 hits, but strung them along in such a manner that, backed by brilliant fielding and plenty of hitting, he had little trouble with the enemy. The Crackers found only seven hits in the hides of Didier. Weaver and Crowder, the relief trio of the Dobbs or ganization, but took advantage of plenty of wildness exhibited by the aforementioned rescue workers.

The Barons nearly tied the score in the fourth when Bagby threw the ball away on what should have been an easy out. Hartford was safe when he forced Knox, who had singled. Crowder then knocked an easy roller to Bagby who hurried his throw to first and the hall was captured far afield to the right of the first base foul line. Crowder made second and Hartford legged it to third. Both scored on Griffin's single to right.

New York, May 20 .- Babe Ruth knocked out three more practice home runs Wednesday in his second light workout to prepare himself to join the ranks of the Yankees when they return from the west on May 28.

The home run king spent half an hour at Yankee stadium on his second venture out of St. Vincent's hospital since he was carried there on a stretcher before the official opening the season. Scout Paul Krichell was on the mound for Ruth. He pitched four balls, three of which the Babe slammed into the center-field bleachers. Following the batting practice, the big fellow made one circuit of the running track and called it a day, returning to the Troon, Scotland, May 20 .- The defeat Wednesday of Glenna Collett, the feat Wednesday of Glenna Collett, the sole surviving American competitor, and of Mrs. K. C. Allen, of Canada, left eight women of the British Isles to fight it out for the ladies' open golf championship of Great Britain.

Joyae Wethered, who defeated Miss Collett, 4 and 3, over a still, sunless, soggy course, and Cecil Leitch, who defeated Miss Helen Hirsch, 5 and 4, are favorite; among the critics. Miss Collett received a tremendous ovation from the largest crowd ever assembled to watch a women's golf match. At the start 2,000 or more were in the gallery and when the last hole was shot fully 5,000 were there to see the triumph of the British champion. Many of them were workmen who had abandaned their jobs for the day to view America's and Britain's best in competition. The Americans in the gallery were enthusiastically confident of Miss Collett's success and they have the consolation of knowing that the critics account

Miss Collett's first mistake was on the fifth hole, where she hit into a bunker, while Miss Wethered's approach stopped seven feet from the cup Miss Collett dug her bail out of the bunker with a stroke that carried it beyond the pin. Miss Wethered continued her inevocable play while the American girl seemed to feel the strain of the match, occasionally topping or over-shooting. Her fight did not leave her, however, and the gallery liked that.

They were on the first green in two, 20 yards from the pin, and on the third, they duplicated their work on the first hole, while on the fourth each putted thrice. On the ninth hole Miss Wethered became one up.

The American's shot from the tenth tee went into the rough, but she was well over the green in three, only to bungle her fourth shot. On the eleventh hole Miss Collett was bunkered by her second shot and on the fourteenth she failed to sink a two-foot putt.

Arriving in Paris in the midst of the acrimonious discussion of the Amercan debt situation, Dempsey has been received cooly by the newspapers. The Matin today said:

THE places owned and operated by this company for the sale of gasoline and motor oils are called service stations, and not filling stations. That is because we try to render the community a service in addition to providing high-grade products.

You will find our service men courteous and alert, ready to inflate a tire, wipe your windshield, and give other evidences of their attention to your needs.

Pan-Am Crank-Case Service-Every Pan-Am Service Station is equipped to give the most modern type of crank-case service. You just stop your ear over a concrete pit and have the old oil drained off, the crank-case flushed, and fresh oil put in.

The whole performance takes but fifteen minutes and there is no charge except for the oil used. At the same time, for only a nominal charge, we will lubricate the transmission and, whether you have grease cups or the Alemite system, grease every moving part of your car.

Pan-Am Service Stations are here to serve, and we should like the opportunity to serve you. Stop at one of our stations for a trial and see how you like the place.

The great fun festival, "Abie's Irish Rose," Anne Nichols' famous comedy and the same great cast production that played Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburg and Washington, will be seen in this city at the Atlanta theater during the week starting Monday, June 1, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

"Abie's Irish Rose" is justly termed the fun-riot. Its story of an orthodox Jew who married the daughter of an Irish Catholic, is naturally the basis of all sorts of funny situations, and throughout the entire play a unity of plot is retained that is refreshing. The plot is simple and to the point and offers excellent opportunities for character delineation. tunities for character delineation.

FENNER & BEANT.

New York May 20.—Today's stock market was again very active and showed broader tendencies than for some time past. However, a zood deal of profit taking took place during the first hour, particularly in those issues which have had sensational solvances of late. Offerings came mostly from professional quarters based on the supposition that the upturn had been entirely too rapid. Mack Truck had to take the brunt of the selling which resulted in a setback of about 2 points from yesterday's high. The market as a whole, however, was very little impressed and buillish activities were soon resumed, extending to almost every group. Steel confinued a strong leader followed by independents on more optimistic outlook for the business than for several months. Mail order stock displayed special strength, particularly Sears Roebuck, which advanced several points. General Motars on good buying was advanced to new high level for the recovery and among the accessories Briggs Manufacturing company was well bought at higher prices. Coca-Cola continued in urgent demand, an ew high record being established for all time. West Penn Power was a utility stock which was advanced about 13 points during the late trading and a belated move took place in the oils led by. Fan-American Petroleum extending into other oils, such as Maryland and California Petroleum. This latter stock was particularly influenced by the report that the preferred would be retired at $120 a share which naturally would place the common stock in a strong position. Despite beavy profit taking on the advance prices were well maintained and the market gave ever undication of being well on its way to high prices with more public interest shown.

Chicago, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Increased activity and higher prices stood out to a notable extent in the wheat market today. Much attention was given to an official estimate that the total winter wheat acreage of 20 countries this month has a veraged from 2,000 ton a day larger than last month. The shows a decrease of 1.5 per cent compared with last year. Closing prices on wheat were unsettled, 1.3-6 to 3 cents net higher; May $1.69 1-2 to $1.69 3-4 and July $1.55 to $1.50 1-8, with corn unchanged to 5-S-cent lower, oats 1-S-cent to 1-4 cent up, and provisions varying from the same as yesterday's finish to a rise of 20 cents.

winter wheat territory of the 20 countries amounts to 126,457,000 acres. Another factor which tended to lift wheat values today was notice of unusual wide extremes of temperature in the spring wheat states during the past few days.

Lack of moisture northwest was also complained of. New adverse crop reports from the domestic winter wheat belt too were likewise current.

Upturns in sterling exchange to the topmost points since 1914 and almost to par tended to stimulate the rise of wheat values, especially as export demand for breadstuffs was fairly active. About 500,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bushels of the cought today for shipment to Europe. In addition, Spain was said to have uthorized the purchase of 1,750,000 ushels of wheat in the United lates.

Warmer weather and larger reight was fairly active, are the distant months. This was further accentuated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the earlificated stock at the present time about 150,000 bales, making the earlificated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the earlificated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the earlificated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the earlificated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the earlificated by an additional reduction in the local stock of some 5,000 bales, making the case at this season of the year, there is a great scarcity of contracts when any buying novement starts, because the provent of the present good conditions in the crop in the south has yet covered and as is usually very find the present good conditions in the crop in the south has yet covered and as is usually very find and the crop in the south as yet covered and as is usually very find the present good conditions in the crop in the south as yet covered and as is usually very find advance of 12 to 12 to 12

Rew Orleans, May 20.—After an early din on good weather and favorable construction placed on the weekly review, cotton reversed its course suddenly around the middle of the forenoon and advanced 55 to 67 points. Buying of May and July was the feature of the day July leading the upward movement, selling un to 23.62 at one time representing a gain of 55 points over previous finals. This buying of nears was apparently started by spot houses who needed cotton to fill engagements, the tightness of spots in the interior and relative cheanness of July as compared to premium demand for even the short staple certificated stocks. apparently turnished the motive for this buying. It was of such yourse and character as to frighten shorts in those positions and brought on a general covering movement.

A larce element in the trade are looking for a further reaction owing to the belief that technical conditions have been largely if not entirely corrected by the recent covering. We doubt, however, if a reaction will go far even if it materializes until the spot situation has been relieved.

New York, May 20.—There is mighty little cotton left in the south outside of snaps, bollies and other dogtail stuff, and the rate at which the supply has been distributed this senson is a new record in the history of cotton. Present levels are much below the average price at which this fourteen and one-half million crop was I distributed, and in spite of present favorable crop prospects and the increase in acreage, there is no certainty that we shall have as much next senson. Guaranteeling deliveries to the trade by sales for short account at considerable discount from the average price for this crop looks to be attended with some risk and to require some working out to prove a profitable operation.

C. P. ELLIS & CO. C. P. ELLIS & CO.

New Orleans, May 20.—The recent recovery appears to have been largely due to a fright of July aborts. We have seen little evidence of outside participation in the advance, and with a continuance of favorable weather conditions we doubt if the improvement will hold.

New York, May 20.—Undoubtedly the movement has eased the technical condition: therefore it would seem that susequent fluctuations will depend upon trade demand and further bull trading. The weekly weather report was a little more favorable than expected but shows the need of rails in south Texas. Private advices from that section point urrently to the lack of moisture. Nervous fluctuations are quite probable now and we think purchases should be confined to easiness with the idea of accepting moderate profits. July Liverpool due 12.50.

Total sales exceeded 2,000,000 shares and were the largest of any session since the middle of March.

Strength of sterling exchange, which advanced to the highest price in 11 years and within one-half cent of parity, received as much attention from the banking fraternity as the bullish demonstrations in stock. International bankers were generally agreed that sterling's return to parity is only a question of hours, and that it will have an important psychological effect in financial centers throughout the world.

High-priced specialties continued to set the pace in the upward movement of stocks with new leaders brought forward whenever the old favorites showed signs of wavering on profittaking. Nash Motors jumped 10

The Day in Finance

Rise in Sterling to Close at Par Is Believed by Bankers to be Result of Manipulation for the Purpose of Preventing Gold Exports.

New York, May 20.-Professional traders in the stock market took profits and sold short during the first hour thinking the market was advancing too fast. But it soon developed that all of the interest in the market is on the constructive side and professional traders again buyers, causing the turnover in the first hour to run past the half mil-lion mark, with prices advancing rapidly. Today's market was broader and stronger than any since the upward price movement was resumed. Steel shares were the feature. U. S. Steel common and others moving into new high ground for this movement. Oils were also strikingly Strong.

Much higher prices are predicted for the steel shares on the belief that the turn for the better in this industry has come. During the past week production of new business and prices have remined unchanged but with improvement in the placing of new business, the Iron Age reports today, adding that the balance of news for the past week has been on the side of improvement. Rumors were heard today of coming ex-tensive pool operations in Crucible; also that Gulf States Steel is practically cornered.

Oil shares were helped by an advance of 25 cents a barrel in the price of Pennsylvania crude, the recognized leader in the crude market.

Bank Clearings, Cotton day's annual meeting of shareholders also helped the oil shares. For the first time in the history of his com-pany, Sinclair said, plant facilities and capital are working at 100 per cent. There have been times, he said, when from $50,000,000 to $75,000,-00 of capital was tied up in new conof capital was tied up in new construction. For the first four months of 1925 production of gasoline by Sinclair has increased 34 per cent as a result of increased facilities but with demand for gasoline during the same period increasing 65 per cent.

Sterling advanced to $4.86 1-4, a new high since the war. This compares with par of $4.8666. As economic conditions in England do not warrant sterling back at par the farther advance practically to par is believed in banking circles here to be the result of manipulation for the curpose of preventing gold exports. When England returned to a gold basis a large fund was created for the purpose of supporting sterling, a credit of $300,000,000 with bankers here.

Call money opened at 3 3-4 per cent, then dropped to 3 1-2. There was no change in time money.

Imports during April were $24,500,000 greater in value than during the corresponding month of 1924. During the last ten months exports, at nearly $4,200,000,000 in value, amounted to $1,000,000,000 more than imports. This remarkably satisfactory showing has been due largely to more stabilized economic conditions in Europe. Somewhat linked with the actual sales of commodities abroad are our exports and imports $6,869.883 in gold whereas we exported $21,603,945.

The April statement of this nation's foreign trade bears out other information showing that despite the depressed condition of several industries a very large distribution of goods is taking place. POSTUM CEREAL. In the past year Postum Cereal retired all of its $6,500,000 s per cent preferred stock so that at present entire capital obligations of this company is represented by $400,000 shares of no par common. Earnings for the full year 1924 counted $10,050 per share for the common after all charges except a depreciation while of of $1,12 per share. Postum has any sive and capable management, its financian position is atrong and its fluctuations. Is little affected by industrial fluctuations. In little affected by industrial fluctuations. AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL CHEMIT (AAI: For six years, 1915 to 1920 inclusive, this company averaged better than these times the preferred dividend requirements. In 1921, a vear of marked industrial and agricultural depression, its operations resulted in a deficit of $11,188,422 amounting to $33,21 per share on preferred $1000 from $18,103,300 to $2,600,930. There is little statistical basis for estimating this company's earnings for current fiscal year which ends June 30, but improvement in underlying conditions is obvious. A good reason for expecting improvement for 1924 and 1925 is the fact that the management has been active in the disposal of unprofitable units and the inauguration of operating scommans.

CECIL NEILL PLEADS FOR WILSON COLLEGE

Columbus, Ga., May 20.—"Georgia has the opportunity to become the spiritual leader of the south and possibly the entire nation," declared W. Cecil Neill, speaker of the Georgia

Cecil Neill, speaker of the Georgia house of representatives, at a gathering here this week to formulate plans for local participation in the campaign for the proposed Woodrow Wilson college at Valdosts.

Plans of leaders in the movement are to raise $1,000,000 as Georgia's quota for the college before the campaign is extended to other states.

"Never before in the entire history of the state has Georgia faced such a golden opportunity," said Mr. Neill regarding the proposed memorial to the war-time president. "No reader of history," he continued, "can fail to appreciate the place which time will give to Wilson. His fame is as certain as the fixed stars now before the world has had time to fully measure him.

"Georgia, his home state, has the chance to seize the world memorial which inevitably would be built in his memory. The Woodrow Wilson Memorial college will be one of the distinctive colleges of the world, drawing students and supporters from everywhere. It will raise inestimably Georgian', educational and cultural card. rian's educational and cultural stand-

"We members of the Georgia legislature hear frequent pleas to improve Georgia educationally, but I say that this wonderful institution coming to Georgia will do more for Georgia's educational standing in the world, and for existing institutions, than we could do by legislation in ten years.
"It is impossible to exaggerate the favorable publicity Georgia will receive from the Woodrow Wilson Memorial college. How could we possibly spend $1,000,000 for advertising to better advantage than by building this memorial which means so much to the state in every other way."

Her Wishing Cap-

Mrs. Johnson Lost

But that was a matter of but small moment to her because-

She did not lose sight of The Constitution classified section's ability to make wishes come true.

That is why Mrs. J. B. Wooten, 45 E. Georgia avenue, did just a litle bit more than wish when she wanted a tenant for her light housekeeping rooms. It is why she called an ad-taker at MAin 5000 and held the brief conversation which resulted in the appearance of a Constitution classified ad which broadcast her wish to Atlanta and vicinity.

And that was all there was to it. Right after that her wish came true-and her rooms were rented.

If YOU have a few wishes-and have no magic wishing cap-don't worry at all. You can get magic results by calling an ad-taker at MAin 5000.

The past has not disappeared; it is part of today. Its woes and its joys live in your memory. The future is alight with hope; it is not a figment of the imagination.

Both yesterday and tomorrow have their inalienable place in your life today. If you neglect them, they will mar and weaken your character; it you bring them to Him and ask Him to give them power to mould you unto better service, they become your chief source of strength and inspiration. Do not try to get along without God.
